FASHION FANCIES.

Rifle green is the popular color for ulsters.

Mull fichus trimmed with lace are fashionable.

New stockings show all of the high art colors. Silk and brocade costumes are worn on the street.

Lace garniture is preferred in silk suits, black and colored. The Jersey shaped cloth jacket is very fashionable in London. The "Alexis" jacket is cut with standing collar, single-breasted and short hips. A Scotch clan plaid shirt and a Jersey jacket form a pretty style of walking suit.

ped grounds on which are designs in thick and long pile plush.

Printed sateen with large figures on dark colored and tinted grounds are used for cloak linings.

The Phrygian cap, projecting far over the face, appears among other millinery novelties in Paris.

Velveteen as now made, looks so exactly like Lyons velvet that few experts can tell the difference, says an exchange. But you will always meet experts on the street.

Brocaded plushes are richly manufactured. This lovely goods trims silk and velvet garments beau, iful-v. The price per yard is necessarily hig's The colors are various.

Miniature lanterns are the new est thing in ear-rings, and were no doubt introduced to obviate the necessity of the young ladies of the period having their light under a bushel. They have a pretty heaclight.

Travelling dresses are can'ed o great pe feccion chis season in respect to details. The draperies are aranged not to crush easily, and the general "ou fit' see ns to have been prepared with an eye to com'o. ...

There are a number of odd fanc'es | TRUNKS, hinted at in the coming out of winter millinery. Exaggerated styles w' take the lead in the cors uction of costly chaperux. One mode that LOW WARE, will be favored in headgear has the helmet shape that projects far over the face, a pretty cap for a belle.

The tulip and the sunflower mania has had quite a romantic 1uu. and this fancy in the æsthetic line is still countenanced, and holds a certain which in point of style, quality and power in the beau monde of rich prices, be never been equalled in this dressing. The prominence given to place. waist bouque's this summer is carried into this season and especially in the make-up of full-cress oilets.

Turkey red will doubt less play an important part in winter diess, a where, shade that is very accommodating. It is becoming to all complexions, except the "strawaerry" blonde; and there is violet, lead and pale straw that are suited to the dark and the light-even ye'low-haired belies may indulge in these shades with pleasing Shawls are turned into wraps. Not new and fashionable shawls are thus made over, but old shawls, those of good quality, that have given serviceable wear, may be taken and transformed into a stylish wrap. This is simply an economical suggestion that has been turned to account by taste and enterprising French modistes.
